

SCI Agri-Food Early Career Forum

SCI Agri-Food Hub is launching an Early Career Forum which will be driven by the people it will also support.

The forum offers those who are within 10 years of completion of their first degree or first position in industry, and working or studying in an Agri-Food related area an exciting opportunity to be at the heart of a unique network that will develop programmes to enhance early careers.

Why take part?

Becoming part of a multi-disciplinary network outside of your work place or university offers many benefits.

- Expand your knowledge

Find out about the work that other people are doing in similar fields to your own. You never know how it might overlap!

- Meet new people

SCI members come from many different organisations and regional areas. Expand your network as part of the Early Career Forum.

- Build your skills

Gain practical experience in budgeting, project management and dealing with people at different levels. Show that you can make things happen!

Next meeting

Following two successful meetings in 2016, the next meeting will be held at SCI, London during the afternoon of Monday 27 March 2017.

Join us for lunch then take part in activities and workshops to help to build your skills.

What we want from you

We want your ideas for activities that will support those working in Agri-Food related areas at an early stage in their careers. We're looking for innovative and results-driven SCI members to turn these ideas into reality.

About SCI

SCI is a multi-disciplinary society connecting scientists and business people to advance the commercial application of science. Our aim is to share and exchange information, ideas, innovations and research. Members' interests in our growing network span sectors as diverse as food and bio-renewables, water, waste and environment, energy, materials and manufacturing.

Get Involved!

Send an email to communications@soci.org with the subject line SCI Agri-Food ECF and ask to attend the meeting on the afternoon of Monday 27 March 2017. Reasonable travel expenses will be covered.
