Call for Nominations

SCI is currently going through an exciting period of strategic review, from which it will emerge with a renewed sense of purpose, as a multi-disciplinary society, serving diverse, yet interlinked, scientific sectors in the modern chemical industry.

Our strategy is to re-establish and extend our connections with industry, focusing on innovation and building an organisation which is better able to provide real value to new and existing members at all stages of their careers.

To achieve this, SCI needs the support and involvement of its active and dedicated members. If you feel you have relevant experience and a passion for promoting scientific innovation – and if you would be willing help SCI build its future in the space where science meets business – please do consider standing for election. The Board of Trustees is keen to ensure diversity of representation across gender, race and age.

The following positions are available:

|---|-------------------------------|
| ▶ Board of Trustees: | 6 Ordinary Trustees, |
| ▶ Finance and Investment Advisory Committee (FIAC): | Chair and 4 Ordinary Members, |
| ▶ Membership Affairs Committee (MAC): | 6 Ordinary Members, |
| ▶ Publications Advisory Committee (PAC): | 8 Ordinary Members. |

NEW FOR 2016!

We are keen to encourage Members to engage with the election process and so we are introducing a new electronic voting system this year. This system allows you to register your vote online quickly, with all of the required documents being available to review as you go through the online voting process. We anticipate it will take around 15 minutes for Members to register their vote.

To find out more 2 webinar sessions have been arranged where the online voting process will be explained. These sessions are open to all Members but you will need to register for one of these via the SCI website at www.soci.org/events.

Join our webinars on:

- ▶ Friday 20 May from 2:30 to 3:30, or
- ▶ Tuesday 24 May from 9:30 to 10:30.
