The Science of Wine - discovery by tasting

Wednesday 14 September 2016 - 18.00 for 18.30

SCI, 14-15 Belgrave Square, London SW1X 8PS

Wine has got to be one of the most interesting beverages to explore given the very wide range of factors, both natural and human, which can influence what we experience by the time it is poured into a glass. How these factors come together to deliver one of life's great pleasures, can be appreciated by tasting - once you know where to look.

The British Section IFT is delighted to have secured Geoff Taylor, Campden BRI's wine and spirits expert, to lead an evening of wine exploration. Geoff's experience and expertise in wine and wine-making is renowned, and means that his contribution is sought on matters as varied as the latest edition of Jancis Robinson's The Oxford Companion to Wine ("the greatest wine book ever published" - according to The Washington Post) to wine fraud! By comparing wines from the Americas with similar varieties from Europe, we are promised a delicious and insightful tour of the science wine.

The event will run from 18.00 to 20.00, with wine tasting starting at 18.30 sharp!

Because of the nature of the event, numbers are limited to 30 so book now. Bookings can be made by completing the attached form. Payment can be made by cheque or internet banking (see over).

Bookings will be confirmed on receipt of payment.

We look forward to seeing you there!
